VOLUME 7

ADA, OKLAHOMA, WEDNESDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 7, 1910

NUMBER 131

OFFICIAL OKLAHOMA VOTE ANNOUNCED

OVER TWO HUNDRED AND EIGH-
TEEN THOUSAND PEOPLE WENT TO POLLS.

Guthrie, Ok., Sept. 6.—Politically there were 218,358 votes cast in the primary election of August 2, of them 125,848 being democratic, 79,368 republican, 13,054 socialist and 88 prohibitionist. Three years ago in the first primary election, the democratic vote was 108,702. All other parties that year made their nominations by conventions. This year but fifty-two counties reported any vote for the prohibition ticket.

In each case the vote here given was that cast for governor, being in the aggregate the highest for any office. There were cast for and against the grandfather clause 240,078, or 21,720 more than were cast for the ten candidates for governor on the four political tickets. This may be accounted for in that the law permitted no escape from voting on the amendment. Every ballot cast had to be either for or against the grandfather clause and accepting the record of the state election board as authentic, it means there were 21,720 voters who paid attention to neither race nor candidate, but voted only for or against the suffrage proposition.

Socialists and republicans, both of whom were opposed to the clause claim there was a shortage in their precincts of ballots. Applied to many precincts democrats make similar complaint. It is asserted that socialists and republicans secured democratic ballot because there were none of their own and voted against the grandfather clause without regard to remainder of the ticket. The same was also true to some degree when voting their party ticket, which had a tendency to increase the grandfather vote over that cast for heads of the tickets.

Democratic Vote for Governor.

Records of the State Election board show the following vote for democratic candidates for governor: Cruce 56,051, Kirk 2,010, Murray 40,700 and Ross 27,087. Cruce led Murray 15,351. The highest individual democratic vote was 72,672 for Kate Barnard, commissioner of charities and corrections, and her plurality over Baker was 38,074. The next highest individual vote was for Charles Taylor, state examiner and inspector, who received 64,831, with a plurality over Landrum of 32,345. Bill Cross deceased, nominated for state auditor, received third place with 58,998 votes.

Next to the office of governor the largest vote was for attorney general, with a total of 108,845, the third being lieutenant governor, 108,599, and the lowest was for president of the state board of agriculture, the total being 94,377. The following was the vote cast for candidates on the democratic ticket:

Lieutenant Governor—Davis 23,416, Duffy 13,198, Ellis 9,762, McAlester 33,164, Notson 3,898, Postelle 14,647, Yeager 10,514.

President State Board of Agriculture—Beaver 45,812 (no opposition).

Corporation Commissioner—Brownlee 22,428, Cloonan 7,464, Hill 16,433, Queen 9,188.

Clerk of the Supreme Court—Chapell 31,729, Ewing 22,008.

Socialist Vote.

The total vote for Cumbe, the only candidate for governor on the socialist ticket, was 13,054, and the same vote appears for other candidates for state offices. Stephens county cast the highest number of socialist votes, 609, the next being Pottawatomie with 501, and third was Pontotoc, 496. McIntosh county returns for the socialist ticket are missing. There was no contest for state offices.

OTIS WEAVER TO THE ADA BUSINESS PUBLIC

Nearly ten years ago when my brother Carlton was 18 years of age, unschooled through either the rudiments of common school learning or business experience, and there was not enough money in the family exchequer of the two of us to acquire either for him by business investment or college attendance, there was sought a way to achieve something in the direction of both business experience and educational information for him by the purchase on a credit of the Ada News junk shop, lately removed from Center, at the price of six hundred dollars. Marvin Brown, now of Oklahoma City a practical printer was Carlton Weaver's first associate and E. C. Patton, present secretary of the State Corporation Commission was his second associate in the publication of the News.

After a few years, Carlton was enabled to attend school, which he did first at Kentucky University and later at the Oklahoma State University. The Ada News gave to one of the Weaver boys a fair college education, which resulted in his achievement of a delegateship in the Constitutional Convention, and it has given to the other one, since there was begun the issuance of the daily edition of the News more than seven years back, a good deal of hell to keep it going every day without the sacrifice of every other property interest in sight.

The proprietor of the Daily News, at the minimum estimate, has sustained a loss of more than ten thousand dollars by the publication of the Daily News during the past seven and one-half years, which represents practically four-fifths of the age of the town. But the losses have been favored with its compensations; in instance, the proprietor has lost lots of foolish sentimentality, which once largely engaged his regard for the Daily News, since there has been forcefully impressed on him many times the fickleness of the approval and appreciation of a community for one, who is doing what is unpractical, even, if it is something in the nature of a modest philanthropy.

But lately Ada has taken on a rapid commercial growth, has become more prosperous and the county an added and more substantial citizen-ship.

The conduct of a daily publication under practical economical management will not afford an unproductive financial returns to the investor.

The occurrence of the consolidation of the printing and publishing business of the city, taken with the very emphatic and tangible manner in which all the business citizens have extended their heartiest endorsement of such consolidation, abundantly convinces that the Daily News under the business management of Mr. Yeager, and editorial treatment of Mr. Norrell will effect satisfactory achievement for all concerned.

When Messrs. Norrell and Yeager have become conversant with certain details of that part of the consolidated business which was transacted by the Daily and Weekly News, my active connection will be severed and only advisory association continued with the business.

In behalf of Messrs. Norrell and Yeager, proprietor of the Ada Democrat and myself proprietor of the Daily and Weekly News, there is extended to the business citizens of Ada our very sincere appreciation for the hearty reception accorded our proposal to consolidate its printing and publishing establishments.

When I, in company with Mr. Yeager or alone, had visited practically all the business citizens of Ada and heard their friendly expressions and viewed their kindly attitude toward their Daily Press and the proprietors of both the News and Democrat and witnessed the readiness with which they signed an agreement to extend to the News Publishing and Printing Company their printing and advertising patronage, confidence was renewed that after all the business public was my friends and that I remained its debtor.

Yours respectfully,
OTIS WEAVER.

JAPANESE COTTON FIRM IN OKLAHOMA

Oklahoma City, Sept. 6.—A representative of the firm of Morimura Arai and company, one of the largest Japanese corporations engaged in the silk and cotton trade, who has been in the city for the last few days, announced Monday that a branch office will be opened in Oklahoma City. The Morimura company has its head offices in Yokohama, but also has offices in every large city in the world.

Y. Sakurai, who has been looking over the local field, was joined Monday afternoon by Richard Von Briesen, New York manager of the firm, and stated that in addition to opening offices in Oklahoma City, several propositions in Texas will be considered. Mr. Sakurai expects the local headquarters will be the most important in the southwest.

As the Japanese firm is one of the largest handlers of American cotton in the old world, the announcement means much to the Oklahoma cotton producers. In the future, the cotton brokers will be able to dispose of all they can buy to this firm, which pays an exceptionally high price for Oklahoma cotton.

In speaking of the product from this state, Mr. Von Briesen said:

"The Japanese spinners are looking with great favor on Oklahoma cotton, it being of a peculiarly desirable character especially adapted to their needs, and realizing this desirability we have determined to open our own office here so that we will be in touch with the cotton in the south, personally looking after the shipments for the various mills and working in direct cable connections with Japan."

TRAIN ROBBERY IN HEART OF ST. LOUIS

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 6.—A lone train robber boarded the Burlington overland fast express in the yards at Union Station in the heart of St. Louis at 9 o'clock tonight, shot and killed the flagman on the rear sleeper, locked the negro porter in a closet, robbed four passengers of their jewelry and money, and escaped from the train before it left the city limits.

Thirty minutes later the entire detective and police forces were scouring the city for the robber, while the train sped on its way toward the North Pacific Coast.

Tonight's hold-up was the boldest ever attempted in this section.

The robber is known to have boarded the Burlington fast train immediately after it left the protection of the car sheds at Union Station.

Flagman Is Shot.

When the train reached Twelfth street, six blocks from Union Station, about three blocks from police headquarters, the robber crawled over the railing of the rear sleeper, shot the flagman, J. H. Wine of Hannibal, through the neck, instantly killing him. The body of the flagman fell to the tracks and an engine following passed over his body, cutting off one of his arms. The body was found beneath the viaduct shortly afterward by Charles H. Barbour, special agent for the Burlington, and Elmer B. Crews.

Shot Attracts Porter.

The report of the pistol as the unknown robber shot the flagman attracted the attention of the negro porter in the rear sleeper, who opened the rear door, to be confronted with the revolver of the highwayman. The porter was forced into a closet at the point of the pistol, locked there and the four passengers robbed before those in the forward part of the six-coach train were aware of the hold-up. The names of the robbed passengers could not be learned, as they remained on the train and continued on their journey.

Makes His Getaway.

The robber is believed to have escaped when the train slowed up in North St. Louis.

Conductor Brady of the train was the first to reach the robbed sleeper, and found the passengers in a state of fright and the negro locked in the closet. He signalled Engineer Housman to stop the train at the North St. Louis yardmaster's office at the foot of Carrie avenue where Yardmaster O. C. Hill was notified of the hold-up.

Section Hands in a Bad Wreck.

The section crew, R. J. Huff, foreman, was in a bad mixup just east of Jim Story's early Wednesday morning. They were pumping along at a good clip when a rod broke and dropped into a cogwheel of the hand car. The seven members of the crew were all thrown from the car and all more or less injured. T. J. White, head, lip cut, face bruised, Jim Crawford, back bruised, R. J. Huff, bruised, Layton England, wrist sprained, John Call, Lew Chiles and Jim Abercrombie, somewhat bruised. Medical aid was called and the injured men brought to town as soon as the accident was reported. Allen Hustler.

The apparent friendliness of Roosevelt and Taft reminds one of two prize fighters shaking hands just before the punching begins.

Don't be bashful. If you know an item of interest tell it to us or phone it in. We do our best to get all there is going, but can't see everything that happens.

The man without a purpose in life is like a ship at sea without a rudder. He is subjected to all the buffeting of chance and arrives nowhere.

Some people seem to take as much pride in exhibiting their family skeletons as others do their family trees. The first excite contempt and the other amusement.

Now that free delivery is in sight for Ada, and the roads throughout the county are being improved, why couldn't there be a few rural mail routes established in Pontotoc county?

We are told that after the commissioners voted the court house to 12th street that the boosters of that section had to apply chunks of ice to their heads to cool off and keep their heads down to normal size.

Several Counties of Oklahoma are to hold fairs this fall. It is perhaps too late for Pontotoc county to begin an enterprise of this kind, but by next year we hope to see a movement of this kind under way.

Why not have Theodore Roosevelt decide whether Guthrie or Oklahoma City is the capital of Oklahoma before the nation's teachers get to that stubborn question this fall in their geography classes?—Nashville Tennessean.

The republican nominee for sheriff of Comanche county recently found himself in the middle of a bad fix. He lives in the portion which will be cut off into Cache county, if such county is created, and rather than move across the line, he threw up the nomination altogether.

The recent election frauds of Oklahoma City will likely lead to some drastic amendments to the election laws of the state. All parties alike condemn election thievery, and a free people like Oklahomans will not submit to such tactics. Stripes for the thieves.

We hope our patrons will be a trifle lenient with us on account of a few irregularities the past few days. Moving the two offices together has caused quite a bit of confusion. We are getting things in shape, however, and in a few days things will be moving as usual.

I have often wondered why a handsome young man like Otis Weaver is still an old bachelor. After handling this daily paper for three days the question is no longer puzzling. The editor has no time for frivolous things like matrimony if he gets his paper out on time.

Roosevelt's position toward the two wings of the republican party is little better known than when he emerged from the wilds of Africa. One day he endorses Taft and his standpat administration and the next opposes everything Taft and Aldrich stand for.

School days are at hand once more, and in a few days the children of Ada will be delving into the mysteries of their books. Of course every one recognizes in a general way the value of an education but the meaning of an education is not so clear to them. I have often heard men say that they wanted their children educated so that they would not be forced to work as hard as their parents had done before them. This is a very pernicious idea to instill into the mind of the child. Work is not a thing to be shunned. Every normal human being should have employment of some kind. The only question to be considered is what can be accomplished. Education is not for the purpose of enabling a man to escape work but to accomplish greater results with the same effort. The educated man usually works harder than the one without an education, but his training enables him to accomplish more and earn more than he otherwise could. That is the whole end of education and should be impressed early on the mind of the child.

THE OLD SOUTH AND THE NEW

In further reply to the recent criticism by the Kennebec Journal of the old South, the Washington Post recalls an opinion of James G. Blaine which appears in "Twenty Years in Congress," respecting the men and ideals of the old South, and quotes from a speech delivered by the late Senator Hoar some fifteen years ago an eloquent tribute to certain qualities of Southern people.

ities of Southern people. "Throughout the long period of their domination," said Mr. Blaine, "the Southern leaders guarded the treasury with rigid and increasing vigilance against every attempt at extravagance and every form of corruption."

Speaking of the Southern people, Senator Hoar said:

They have some qualities which I can not claim in an equal degree for the people among whom I myself dwell. They have an aptness for command, which makes the Southern gentleman, wherever he goes, not a peer only, but a prince. They have a love for home; they have, the best of them, and the most of them, inherited from the great race from which they came the sense of duty, and the instinct of honor, as no other people on the face of the earth. They have above all, and giving value to all, that supreme and superb constancy which, without regard to personal ambition, and without yielding to the temptation of wealth, without getting tired, and without getting diverted, can pursue a great object, in and out, year after year, and generation after generation.

The Macon Telegraph recalls an incident related by the late Dr. J. L. M. Curry. Dr. Curry, while in Washington, in the fall of 1865, called upon Elihu B. Washburne, afterward minister to France, and was cordially received. Says Dr. Curry: "Holding my hand, he said, with warmth: 'I wish you fellows were back here again.' That is a singular wish." I responded, "after the last four years experience." "Yes," he said, "you gave us a great deal of trouble; but the fact is, you wouldn't steal."

These matters are not recalled here for the purpose of throwing back the challenge of the Kennebec Journal or of any of the partisan or narrow critics of the South who live in the North, but rather to impress upon a new generation of Southern men the virtues of their forefathers. It is not uncommon to hear from the lips of intelligent, aggressive and progressive young Southerners remarks of a derogatory character when they speak of the old times and the old men. To them as well as to certain Northern people "The New South" signifies an emancipation from old theories of society, politics and economics. These young men claim to be free from prejudice and the representatives of a new dispensation. Most of them have traveled extensively and have become enamored of metropolitan splendor. The simplicity, economy, frugality and rigid adherence to old principles appear to them merely as relics of ignorance and superstition. They are "up-to-date" in politics, society, religion and business.

Alas and alack! It is not a pleasing reflection that so large a number of our boys embrace these new views. It is pleasing that in spite of the increasing ambition for material wealth the old ideals still dominate our civilization. Men of the truest philosophy the country over are becoming alarmed because of the disappearance of the dominant qualities of Southern statesmen and the tranquil simplicity of old time Southern society. It will be a sorrowful day for the South when the things that made the old South glorious are considered outworn. Discarding slavery and secession, there still remains enough of truth, simplicity, sincerity, virtue, honor, integrity and courage to illuminate the career of the old South and make it precious to our generation for what it was and for what we can profit from it by cherishing its ideals and perpetuating them in our civilization.

The Quality Store

Some one has said that when God made the American girl He sent His angel messengers throughout all the star-strewn realms of space to gather all there was of beauty and brightness, of enchantment, of glamour. When those angels returned from their harvesting of beauty and threw down their glittering burden at His feet, He began, in their wonderful presence, the fashion of the American girl. He wrought with the gold and the gleam of the stars, shifting glories of the rainbow hues, and the pallid silver of the moon. He wrought with the crimson which swooned in the rose's rubied heart, with the pure sweet snow which gleams from the lilies' petals and the fire of the flames which flash and leap from jewel's depth. Then glancing deep into His own bosom He took of the love which gleamed there like some rare pearl beneath the wind-kissed waves of a summer sea, thrilled into the form he was fashioning, and all heaven and earth rejoiced, for lo! He had wrought the American girl.—Ex.

TUESDAY'S ELECTION

Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin was nominated by a heavy majority to succeed himself The progressive wing of the republican party of that state captured practically everything. Senator Burrows of Michigan, stand-patter, was defeated for renomination. The progressives also carried New Hampshire. The republicans carried Vermont by about 17,000 votes, a falling off of about 12,000.

A WEAK WOMAN AND HER STORY

In Floral, Ark., Lives a Lady Who Feels That Her Strength Was Restored by Cardui.

Floral, Ark.—"I must speak a good word for Cardui," writes Mrs. Viola Baker, of this place.

"About a month ago I was in very bad health. I was so weak and nervous that I was not able to do my housework."

"My husband bought me one bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic. I took it according to directions and now I am in good health."

"I think Cardui is a fine tonic for weak women."

And you are not the only lady who thinks so, Mrs. Baker.

Thousands, like you, have written to tell of the wonderful benefit Cardui has been to them.

Cardui contains no minerals, or other powerful drugs. It contains no glycerin or other mawkish-tasting ingredients.

It is just a pure, natural extract, of natural vegetable herbs, that have been found to regulate the womanly functions and strengthen the female system.

All druggists sell Cardui. See yours about it.

WANTED WEST MAIN ST.

TO RETAIN COURT HOUSE

In view that it is a well known fact that there has for several years been an earnest rivalry between East and West Main street, it is worthy of mention that County Commissioner John D. Rinard, even in the face of the fact that he has larger realty holdings on the East Main than any other citizen, fought and voted for the location of the court house to remain on West Main. Such action by John could not very well be attributed to the influence of Col. Wister Hays who bank faces the present court house location, for all know that Commissioner John Rinard has a head all his own, and too inexplibly, it appears that Col. Hays of postoffice fame was neutral as to court house location. Verily the peculiar exigencies of realty value promotions make strange bed fellows the same as politics. Don't it?

About $2,000 worth of delinquent real estate was sold for taxes yesterday. Owners of other delinquent land paid up their taxes to the amount of $551.33.

Judge Rainey has appointed as court stenographer C. E. Pinckney, late of the office of the attorney general of Texas. Mr. Pinckney has the reputation of being a most efficient stenographer.

The contract calls for the removal of the court house fixtures to the new quarters by the 15th of October. A large vault for the records will be built at once by the 12th street people.

Judge Rainey states that the grand jury will meet on the 19th. On account of the difficulty of handling the grand jury business and criminal docket at the same time it was decided to finish the criminal docket before convening the big twelve.

TIPS On Choosing a Bank

Before lining up with a bank you should investigate several points in connection with it. In the first place ascertain whether or not the bank is prospering and developing along with the other lines of business of the community. If a bank's business isn't prospering something is wrong. In the second place are the officers and directors of the bank good, safe business men who deal squarely with the people? Watch out for a bank operated by tricksters or sharpers. In the third place do the directors really direct or are they merely figure heads? Look out for a bank whose directors know little or nothing about its business.

We want you to investigate this institution. We know its business is prospering and increasing right along. You know its officers and directors and we believe they are safe, honorable, business men. The directors of this bank say what shall and shall not be done. They pass upon the loans regularly and their instructions are carried out to the letter. This bank is what they make it—A Strong, Prospering, Conservative institution.

The First National Bank

Just a Practical Joke.

The big lot of shooting and general disturbance which occurred on the Frisco near the flour mill one night last week was, as it has since been learned, a practical joke on the part of night watchmen. That it worked like magic can be verified by some of the boys who followed the officers that night and who were induced to stand guard over a supposed dead nigger, and their story can be corroborated by others who did not stand but contrarily butted telegraph poles and demolished nearby fences in making away from the scene of the tragedy.

There was another jail delivery in Ada last night. Somebody poked a scantling to the inmates of the city jail with which they proceeded to pry off some of the window bars and two of the dissatisfied lodgers made their escape.

It is supposed they were furnished with some booze also, as they were apprehended before they had gone very far, and were in a good state of intoxication.

COUNCIL OVERRULES PAVING PROTESTS

The council held a meeting yesterday afternoon to hear protests against the report of the board of appraisers on the paving contract. W. C. Rollow, G. P. Carney, Joe Islinger and John Beard filed protests against their assessments but after giving them a hearing the council adopted a resolution approving the original report of the appraisers and overruling the protests.

On account of the trouble experienced in keeping vehicles off the streets where the paving is being done, an ordinance was adopted providing a heavy penalty for driving on these streets and against removing the barricades.

AD FACTS BY JOHN LEE MAHIN

Terse Sayings from Speech by Man Who Originated Gold Dust Twins.

A trade mark at its best is an anchor for all creative sales work that a merchant or manufacturer put out in connection with the goods he is selling.

Salesmanship is essentially an appeal to the mind of the buyer. The sale always takes place in the buyer's mind before he tells the salesman, either by word or letter, to book his order. It follows then that salesmanship should concern itself in discovering the present mental attitude of prospective buyers, both as individuals and as they may be grouped together, and then influencing them by the best means available to accept the seller's viewpoint of the merchandise he is offering to them.

Advertising rests on the fact that buyers can be influenced in groups. Millions of dollars are being spent today in house to house canvassing, store demonstrating and particularly sampling, that could be more efficiently spent if retail dealers were educated to comprehend the true value of advertising space.

Many retail dealers have bought space from the publisher of a daily newspaper under the assumption that the space itself comprehended the real sales service. In doing this they were naturally disappointed and condemned the value of newspaper space in its entirety.

I am one of those men who believe that truth is stronger than error; that a man gains strength by doing things right, and that it is not necessary for him to organize and agree with this competitor in order to institute a reform.

Real reforms are accomplished by the individual comprehending the truth and successfully living up to it. And it is not necessary for a man to wait until other people do what they ought to do before he does what he should.

Ordinance Number 225

An ordinance relating to and regulating travel on the streets and avenues and alleys of the City of Ada, Oklahoma, while local improvement is being made thereon.

Be it ordained by the Mayor and Council the City of Ada, Oklahoma.

Section One. That it shall be unlawful for any person or persons to ride or drive over any street or avenue in this city upon which local improvements are being made until after all of the barricades attempting to close said streets or avenues have been entirely removed by the City.

Section Two. It shall be unlawful for any person in this city to remove or tear down ride or drive over any barricade placed across any of the streets or avenues of this City for the purpose of closing the same from public, for the purpose of making local improvement on said street avenues or alleys.

Section Three. Any person found violating the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined in any sum not less than four dollars nor more than one hundred dollars.

Section Four. For the preservation of the public peace, health and safety an emergency is hereby declared by reason whereof this ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, approval and publication as the law requires.

Passed by the Council this the 6th day or Septemebr, 1910.

ROBERTSON RESIGNED FOR PURELY PERSONAL REASON

"Yes, I have resigned my place on the state capital commission," said Judge Robertson to a Tribune man Monday, "and I fail to see where the general public can be interested in the matter further. Tell your readers for me that all these stories in the papers as to the reasons of my quitting are made up of whole cloth so far as I am concerned. Some of them are positively silly and show an anxiety on the part of the papers running them to do me and the governor harm. I had good reasons for leaving the commission; they were perhaps personal, yet I know of no law that will compel a man to hold a job that he does not want at all.

"To be sure, the $4,000 a year salary and expenses and the prestige that goes with such a place count for a good deal, but they are not all the things that go with such a job. Say for me that I am back in old Lincoln county to stay. This is the best county in the state, and our people the most progressive and up to date and I am glad to again identify myself with them."—Chandler Tribune.

DISTRICT COURT NOTES

The second day of this term of district court began promptly at 9 o'clock at a lively rate as did the proceedings of the first day, on yesterday afternoon there were some items not reported in yesterday's account of the proceedings.

The case of G. P. Carney, et al. vs. the City of Ada, was set for the twentieth.

State vs. Oscar Coffman was dismissed.

John Reynolds was fined ten dollars for contempt in the Carl Dyson case and an attachment ordered.

The case of Earl Dyson of Allen, charged with horse theft was brought to trial with the following jury: W. T. Agee, Tom Lancaster, W. J. Berry, Jim Ross, J. K. Strickland, W. L. D. Unsell, S. E. Kerr, Pete Garrison, Chas. Loveman, Jim Bob Allen, J. R. Kirk, R. E. Hodges.

The examination of witnesses was completed, and arguments made this morning. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty this afternoon.

In the case of J. C. Johnson vs. Melvin Johnson a restraining order was filed and granted by the court.

The defendants in the following cases plead not guilty this morning: State vs. Carnes, State vs. Henry Prentiss, State vs. Elmer Story.

In the case of the State vs. Noah Collins, motion to quash information was filed. Demurrer of defendant Ganev was filed in the case of the State vs. Marshall et al. In State vs. Marshall et al, defendant Marshall filed demurrer. State vs. Case and McCall, demurrer filed.

The case of Ben Price charged with cow stealing was called and put to trial with the following jury: H. E. Noe, C. W. Compton, A. N. Davis, Lee Daggs, Sam Myers, J. M. Herron, Ben Floyd, Jim Rich, E. Henson, J. C. VanMeter, F. R. Spann J. M. Stanfield. After the evidence had been heard, on motion of the county attorney, the court dismissed the case.

Had a Fight.

Jack Wilson and Mr. Goodman were arrested yesterday afternoon for fighting. Wilson is said to have been drinking at the time. He was confined in the city jail and was one of the two who pried out last night. Fred Palmer being the other. Goodman gave bond for his appearance in court.

W. C. T. U. Meeting.

All W. C. T. U. members are requested to meet at the M. E. church Thursday at 4 o'clock p. m. Members are urged to be present as there is important business. Election of officers and election of delegates to convention.

Cotton Picker Being Tested.

Granger, Tex., Sept. 6.—Theodore H. Price of New York, the well known cotton manipulator, is spending the week here to study the practical working of the Price-Campbell cotton picker in the cotton field.

Mr. Price is the principal stockholder in the company, putting out these machines and will be joined here during the week by associates from the East. There have been ten of these machines manufactured at Utica, N. Y., and five of them have been shipped here for demonstration. Part of these are now at work on the Young farms, six miles east of town.

A large number of practical cotton raisers have seen the machine at work and all admit that it will pick the cotton from the boll and stalk cleaner than the average negro picker.

The machines are run by a twenty horse gasoline engine and will pick from ten to twelve acres per day. The management is not offering the pickers for sale, but propose to pick a crop at same price paid other pickers.

Mr. Price says that he is not so much interested in the cotton market as he is in perfecting the picker.

Legality of the Court.

Guthrie, Ok., Sept. 6.—Frank Buck, who was convicted in Woodward county of stealing horses and sentenced to six years in the penitentiary, has, through his attorney, raised the point that his conviction was illegal and that the act creating the court of criminal appeals was not legal, the court having been created in violation of the enabling act, which provides that all cases carried down from territorial days should be triable in the appellate court, which succeeded the territorial supreme court. Buck's case was pending at the time of statehood in the territorial supreme court, and was transferred to the criminal court of appeals afterward, and which transfer has raised the point of the legality of the court.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL.

J. J. McLeod of Roff, is transacting business in Ada today and incidentally passing the time of day with his old friend Judge Barton.

Rev. W. J. Shipman, assisted by Rev. O. E. Fowler, is holding a most successful revival at Egypt.

We are pleased to learn that C. F. Green, who resigned as agent of the Katy Sept. 1, is to remain among us. He is continuing his study of law in the office of Galbraith & McKeown and will be admitted to the bar at the next meeting of the bar commissioners in January. If he is as good a lawyer as he was a railroad man he will be one of the best in Ada.

Judge C. O. Barton and family, Miss Gertrude Thompson and Harold Constant spent a pleasant outing on Boggy Labor Day.

Louis Lee of near Franks, charged with breaking into a store, was surrendered by his bondsman this morning.

G. P. Grubbs was arrested by Deputy Sheriff O. E. Collins at Roff this morning charged with the larceny of a watch. He gave bond for his appearance and was released.

BILL NUTT FORCED TO TRIAL

The case of Bill Nutt, charged with murder, was called this afternoon. Attorneys Crawford and Bolen argued for a continuance on the grounds that some of the defendant's witnesses were absent.

The court finally overruled the motion and Nutt will be forced to trial.

NEEDFUL KNOWLEDGE.

Ada People Should Learn to Detect the Approach of Kidney Disease.

The symptoms of kidney trouble are so unmistakable that they leave no ground for doubt. Sick kidneys excrete a thick, cloudy, offensive urine, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding. The back aches constantly, head aches and dizzy spells may occur and the victim is often weighed down by a feeling of languor and fatigue. Neglect these warnings and there is danger of dropsy, Bright's disease or diabetes. Any one of these symptoms is warning enough to begin treating the kidneys at once. Delay often proves fatal.

You can use no better remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills. Here's Ada proof:

M. J. Malone, Jr., 325 W. Sixteenth St., Ada, Okla., says: "The results I obtained from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from G. M. Ramsey's Drug Store, far exceeded my expectations. For five years I was a great sufferer from a weak back and other symptoms of kidney trouble. The kidney secretions were highly colored and attended by a scalding sensation in passage. I had sharp, piercing pains through my loins and a constant ache in my hips that made me miserable. Since using Doan's Kidney Pills my kidneys have been performing their functions properly."

For sale by all dealers, Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
